HE IS RISEN! HE IS RISEN INDEED! A PASTOR'S EXPERIENCES WITH DEATH

by Rev. Dr. Ken Henry

Over the past 26 years of pastoral ministry, one of my great privileges has been to be with individuals preparing for death and, in death's aftermath, to help families say their final good-byes.

When friends and family members die, when grief and loss seek to overwhelm us, when someone faces his or her own mortality, or when living without someone feels utterly impossible, I have spent time with people with questions about the afterlife.

Over the years, in planning memorials and funerals, I have never felt depressed, dragged down, discouraged, or afraid of my own death. Indeed, it might surprise you to know that dealing with end-of-life situations has only bolstered my convictions regarding The Resurrection.

In death, in mourning, in sadness, and in grief, I believe I have experienced firsthand the pervading presence of God's mysterious peace – a peace that comes at the end of life. It's never a peace we accept easily, and yet, it is a peace that I sense every person longs for.

So when Jesus says, in Luke's Gospel, "Father, into your hands I commend my spirit," I think I know what he means. Death is a time of release, of moving on, of relinquishing control, of peace. And though life will change because someone is gone from our daily living, I find solace in Romans 8:38: "For I am convinced that neither death nor life ... will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord."

Easter Sunday is about death, but it is also a day when we celebrate life. Easter Sunday is about hearing the resurrection stories from scripture, but it is also about letting go and moving on.

But most of all, Easter, for me, lies not in denying death's finality, but rather, in accepting and embracing all of life's goodness – from beginning to end.

Here are a few of my experiences with death:

"There was no need for you to visit me today, pastor," the woman, looking out her bedside window, says to me. "Jesus came to me last night and told me I'm going home today."

My friend, Gary, in the last stages of AIDS, turns to a friend to tell him, "My angel's wings are at the cleaners today being pressed and ready."

Marjorie, a woman in her 40s and a quadriplegic says to me with her dynamite smile, "When I get to heaven, I'm putting on a dress and going out dancing."

A few months after his death, my grandfather comes to me in a dream and says, "Thank you for reading the paper to me when I was in the hospital. I'm okay."

When I go into the kitchen, there is classical music playing in the background, candles lit all around, and a dog, a champion Frisbee-catcher, lying on the dining room table. The dog's owner, a veterinarian in Eugene, Oregon, asks me to say a few last words for his best friend.

*"Where, O death is your victory?
Where, O death is your sting?"*

CONFIRMATION JOURNEY 2015

Confirmation Journey this year has involved a retreat at the beach, Bible work, writing prayers, talking, going to a PW tea, and lots of fun. Making decorated cupcakes with our gifted teacher Laraine Pitcher was a treat for all including the mentors.

April holds a few more important stops in our journey toward membership and learning what being a Presbyterian Christian at Stone Church entails.

This year's class has five lovely young ladies and dedicated mentors. They are Ginger Luebcke with Lynn Stutz; Elle Nilson with Judy West; Isabel Jaffer with Mary-Ann Hudson; Rebecca Hopson with Claire Ribble; and Larissa Bitterli with Heather Henry.

*Prayers are appreciated,
Rosaleen*

April 26: The History of Stone Church, Part 2, with Alice Thorn & Pat Magee

Stone Church, between 1960 and 2000, focused significantly on social justice: Dr. Perdue’s travel to Selma, the Rumford Fair Housing Act, Angela Davis and the Black Panthers, the Rotating Shelter Program, Jane Spahr’s sermon, the Covenant of Dissent, and support of gays and lesbians symbolized by a Rainbow flag. We explore this important period of Stone Church history.

Men's Mission Team to Either Westminster Woods or Rebuilding Together

The men of the church have two options for community service late in April.

The annual spring Westminster Woods Mission Trip will be the weekend of April 24 - 26. The tasks for the weekend will be to work westminster woods on a loft conversion and/or to build a yurt.

Also, Saturday, April 25, is the date of Rebuilding Together, a county-wide effort to repair and improve low-income and sub-standard housing.

SESSION APPROVES REMOVAL OF CEDARS AND NEW TRIFOLD PEW BROCHURE

The three large deodar cedars – many people mistake them for pines – on the northern and eastern walls of Lincoln House will be removed because their roots are undermining Lincoln House’s foundation.

Session voted unanimously at its March meeting to accept the low bid of Ian Geddes Tree Care for $11,620 to remove those trees, which includes pruning others, on the motion of the Buildings & Grounds Committee, which has been investigating damage caused by their growth. The removal will be done in six to eight weeks at the earliest, depending on city permitting.

Ultimately the trees will be replaced with a smaller species as part of a more extensive re-landscaping of the church’s back yard that will preserve the remaining trees.

But committee chair Judi Kaiser said there was no choice regarding the cedars. “It’s either them or Lincoln House that goes,” she said. “Damage has already been done.”

B&G has been working on the further re-landscaping plans for several months, made necessary because the walking hazards caused by crumbling asphalt paving must be removed. But B&G won’t present a formal plan with cost estimates until the April Session meeting, Judi said.

Session also approved the design of a new trifold brochure for the pew racks. This was proposed by the Membership & Communication Committee.

Finally, Session approved the hiring of a second nursery assistant, pending the completion of background checks. If her hiring is finalized, the nursery will be back to full staffing, since, at the February meeting, Session approved the hiring of Kadija Munu, whose fulltime job is as a medical assistant in Los Gatos.

PRESBYTERIAN SELF-DEVELOPMENT GRANTS

The Presbyterian Committee on the Self-Development of People (SDOP) has approved grants totaling $180,110 to 11 self-help projects in the US and Belize. The money for the projects comes from the One Great Hour of Sharing offering.

The program enables members and non-members of the Presbyterian Church (USA) to form partnerships with oppressed and disadvantaged people to help them achieve self-sufficiency. SDOP is also focusing significant funding on projects in Belize to strengthen partnerships in specific regions of the world. PCUSA intermediary partners work directly with communities of economically poor, oppressed, and disadvantaged people in different parts of the world.

Here are descriptions of some of the program grants:

- ✦ Calumet Laurium Holistic Senior Center [Calumet, MI, $15,000] was founded and is operated by low-income, disabled senior citizens – many with diabetes – to help themselves overcome isolation and develop better self-care and management of diabetes.
- ✦ African Immigrant Support Group [San José, CA, $15,000] is a group of refugees, primarily from East Africa, who are building a strong social support system by holding language classes, vocational training, social networking, orientation and referral, as well as fitness and health education.
- ✦ Sandy Beach Women’s Cooperative Society Limited [Hopkins, Belize, $22,500] will use their grant to purchase an additional cabaña, to extend kitchen facilities, and to develop strategies to market the cooperative business owned and operated by this group of indigenous Garifuna women.

- ✦ Trio Farmers in Development Pre-Cop [Toledo District, Belize; grant: $20,000] will use their grant to enable farmers of this cooperative to try new methods of growing seedlings in tunnels to improve the yield of their crops.

SDOP is constantly looking for ways to engage communities of economically poor, oppressed, and disadvantaged people in partnership, as well as to promote and interpret the ministry in Presbyterian congregations.

To learn more about SDOP, visit pcusa.org/sdop or facebook.com/SelfDevelopmentOfPeoplesdop.

VACATION CHURCH SCHOOL: "CLEAN WATER FOR ALL GOD'S CHILDREN," JUNE 15 -19

Clean Water for all God's Children will be the theme of this year's Vacation Church School, June 15-19.

In light of the recent threat of drought and water rationing, we decided to bring awareness to this issue. The theme will not only address our immediate water problems, but give the children an insight into water issues globally.

Each day through crafts, games, stories, music, and snacks, the children will gain an understanding of the statement, "Jesus Christ is the living water for our bodies and our souls."

Every day we will also learn about a child from another country and their water challenges.

Our mission project will be Play-pumps International. This is a wonderful organization that provides villages with play structures that pump water out of the ground - for the whole village - when the children turn it around and around.

I believe that this is a project our children can understand; also it will reassure them of how very important we are to each other.

Registration for Vacation Church School begins on April 15 and is open to children in kindergarten through 5th grades, with youth helpers in the 6th grade and up. It will run each day from 8:45 am to noon, with a family event on Sunday, June 21, during the regular Worship service at 9:30 am. A donation of $40 per child or $70 per family is requested. All youth helpers are asked to pay $10 to cover T-shirt and snacks.

All are welcome, so invite your friends and neighbors!

If you would like to enroll or would like more information, or if you are interested in volunteering, please contact Mary Jo Blazek.

This is the hike that was "rained out" last fall and that we hope to enjoy now.

We will meet at the preserve at 9 am or at the church to carpool at 8:15 am. Parking is very limited so carpooling is encouraged. You will want to bring water and sunscreen.
